This powerful auto-negotiating 10/100 Mbps Ethernet interface card features network management functions to save you time and hassle. Configure, check error rates, and keep an inventory of your network resources from one centralized location.

The Wake-On-LAN function remotely "wakes up" any PC on the network, so you can handle maintenance chores during off-hours. The 802.1Q support lets you optimize your network traffic by dividing the network into smaller Virtual LANs, while packet delivery is prioritized using 802.1P signaling.
